BAKER CASE

Mr. Seavers reported on the impact of the case of Baker v. Board of Fingerprinting, LC2006-000368-001. The primary impact of the case was that the hearing officer rather than the Board makes the final decision on cases where the Board referred the applicant to an administrative hearing and assigned a hearing officer to conduct the hearing. In contrast, previously, the hearing officer would only offer a recommendation to the Board, which would adopt, reject, or modify the hearing officer's proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law, and decision. Mr. Seavers said that the court based its decision on a couple of statutes, including A.R.S. § 41– 619.55(A), which says, "The board or its hearing officer shall determine good cause exceptions." Mr. Seavers offered historical perspective on how this statute developed. He said that the agencies involved in the fingerprint-clearance-card system that worked on the 2003 legislative reforms for the Board of Fingerprinting wanted a hearing officer to conduct all hearings and expedited reviews. The agencies wanted this change because of the two-year backlog that the Board was experiencing at the time. The Board members would have to be absent from their work for their own agencies for a considerable amount of time in order to keep up with the caseload and conduct a sufficient number of hearings. Instead, the agencies wanted a hearing officer to conduct the hearings and free up the Board members' time. Mr. Seavers emphasized that the agencies wanted the hearing officer to make the final decision. He noted that he had requested that the legislation in 2003 say "the board or its hearing officer shall determine good cause exceptions"—the proposed phrasing was "the hearing officer shall determine good cause exceptions"—because he was concerned that the hearing-officer costs might be more than the Board could sustain and the Board should have discretion to conduct some cases on its own to keep costs in check. Mr. Seavers said that the Board's initial practice after the 2003 reforms was to have the hearing officer make the final decision. Administrative law judges from the Office of Administrative Hearings ("OAH") would make the decisions, without offering a recommendation to the Board. In 2004, the Board began departing from this practice in part because its assistant attorney general had advised the Board in 2003 that it could not delegate its responsibility for making the final decision. Since 2004, the Board had received recommendations from the hearing officer.

Mr. Seavers also explained that the Board would no longer conduct hearings to consider a request for rehearing or review when the hearing officer conducted hearing. Mr. Seavers explained that, according to the assistant attorney general, the decision maker in the administrative hearing must be the person or entity to consider the request for rehearing or review. Mr. Seavers noted that the Board could reserve hearings for itself, although the Board would then need to develop findings of fact, conclusions of law, and orders. The hearing officer would make a final decision only when the Board assigned a hearing officer to the case. Mr.

Seavers said that the current procedure is to assign a hearing officer for any case referred to a hearing. He said that the Board could change this procedure, but he recommended that the Board conduct its own hearings on an exception basis and identify those cases that it wanted to conduct the hearing for.

Mr. Seavers acknowledged that the Board members had individually expressed to him concerns about delegating the final decision-making authority to a hearing officer. He noted that the original intent in the 2003 legislation was to have the hearing officer make the final decision. He added that from an operational perspective, having the hearing officer make the final decision was more efficient and quicker because it eliminated the procedures and time frame that would take place between the filing of a recommendation and the Board's final decision. He also explained that prior to this decision, the caseload had become difficult for the Board to keep up with; having the hearing officer make the final decision alleviated this caseload.

Mr. Seavers explained that the Board would need to pursue legislation to regain authority to make the final decision when it assigns cases to a hearing officer, but he restated that the Board would not need legislation to conduct the hearings itself. The new process established by any legislation would be up to the Board but could include a return to the previous procedures (2004–2007) or perhaps a hybrid process of the current and previous procedures.

Mr. Rosenbaum said that he had concerns about the Board delegating the final decision-making authority to a hearing officer. He said that having a group of individuals make the decision is more beneficial because discussion would bring up issues that an individual might otherwise not think of. Mr. Baker expressed concern about consistency among hearing-officer decisions. He believed that when the Board makes the decision, there is likely to be consistency in the types of decisions that might not exist when a single individual decides the case. Ms. Pipersburgh agreed with Messrs. Rosenbaum and Baker's comments and said that her agency preferred that the Board make the final decision. Mr. Baker noted that seeking legislative changes to the Board's statutes could be risky. He said that any time an agency runs legislation, there's a risk that the Legislature may make unwanted changes. Mr. Easaw said that the Board is ultimately responsible for what comes to it and what is issued by the agency, including decisions by the hearing officer. He believed that legislative change may be necessary to ensure that the Board has adequate control over the decisions coming from the agency. Mr. Seavers pointed out that the Board could adopt rules to establish parameters for the hearing officers' decisions. But he said that adopting rules might constrain the hearing officer or the Board in a way that may partly undermine the purpose of having a good-cause exception process.

Mr. Baker made a motion to table further discussion of the issue to another meeting, and Mr. Rosenbaum seconded. The motion passed, 4–0.

DISCUSSION OF IMPACT OF HOUSE BILL 2790

Mr. Seavers explained that the education omnibus reconciliation bill, House Bill 2790, included a provision that required the Department of Public Safety ("DPS") to establish identity-verified fingerprinting. This form of fingerprinting would apply to school-district personnel. The statute that created the new form of fingerprinting also required non-certified school-district personnel (often called classified personnel) to obtain a fingerprint clearance card. However, the bill did not change the requirement under Title 15 that classified personnel submit to the current system of fingerprinting, in which the prospective employee submits a set of fingerprints and the school districts receive the criminal-history records. According to the amendment's sponsor, Senator Chuck Gray, the fingerprint-clearance-card requirement was unintentional, and he plans to repeal it next year. The Department of Education has requested advice from its assistant attorney general on whether classified personnel are required to have a fingerprint clearance card, given the conflict in statutes. The Department of Education is waiting on that advice and will inform the Board and DPS when it receives the advice. If classified personnel must get a fingerprint clearance card, the requirement would be effective beginning in January 2008. Mr. Seavers said that the Board of Education and Board for Charter Schools estimated that the number of new applications for a fingerprint clearance card would increase by about 75,000. Mr. Seavers said this number would translate into about a 100% increase in the Board's current caseload. In order to comply with time frames, the Board would need to hire additional staff, probably for one year until the new requirement were repealed, and then the new staff positions would need to be eliminated.

Mr. Seavers explained that there is no action for the Board to take, and the question of whether the statutes require classified personnel to get a fingerprint clearance card is for the Department of Education, not the Board of Fingerprinting, to decide. However, he wanted to bring the issue to the Board's attention.

REPORTS

Mr. Seavers referred the Board members to his report on fiscal year ("FY") 2007 expenditures and revenues. (See Attachment 1.)

Mr. Seavers referred the Board members to his report on the FY 2007 strategic-plan performance. (See Attachment 2.) Mr. Seavers also provided statistical information on caseload and time frames that the Board had requested. (See Attachment 3.) He noted that decisions on cases that were referred to administrative hearing are being decided within a few weeks after the hearing.

Mr. Seavers explained that the Board would be having a sunset hearing before a legislative committee of reference, probably in September or October. He said he was submitting requested information to the committee of reference. He offered Board members an overview of the sunset-hearing process.

ADOPTION OF FISCAL YEAR 2008 BUDGET

Mr. Seavers referred the Board members to his proposed budget for FY 2008 and the accompanying memorandum explaining the budget. (See Attachment 4.) Ms. Pipersburgh asked about the possible fee increase. Mr. Seavers explained that the fee increase would not be necessary for FY 2008, but the Board would need to raise the fee in the next fiscal year.

Mr. Easaw made a motion to adopt the proposed budget for FY 2008, and Mr. Baker seconded. The motion passed, 4–0.

Mr. Seavers told Board members that any stakeholders who expressed concern about a fee increase could contact him.

DISCUSSION OF PROPOSED RULES

Mr. Seavers referred Board member to the draft proposal for rule changes. (See Attachment 5.) He explained that the proposal was just in draft form and might change. He said that the purpose of the rule proposal was to implement the time-frames requirements of Laws 2007, Chapter 205, Section 3. He said the draft proposal was being offered for the Board members to review and consider, but the Board would not adopt rules until its next meeting on September 7. Mr. Seavers explained that the Board is exempt from the rulemaking requirements of the Administrative Procedures Act ("APA"), so it could file a notice of exempt rulemaking, and the rules would be immediately effective. The exemption also meant that the Board would not need to hold hearings for public comments or receive approval from the Governor's Regulatory Review Council or the Attorney General's Office. Mr. Seavers said that the Board has made it a practice to offer opportunity for public comments. He suggested that the Board adopt rules at the September 7 meeting in order to have the rules in place by the time the time-frame requirements become effective. After adopting the rules, the Board could give the public additional opportunities to offer comments on the rules and make any necessary changes based on those comments.

Mr. Seavers explained that it was unclear whether Article 7.1 of the APA applies to the Board. He said that the applicability of this article hinges on whether a good cause exception is a license as defined in the APA. Mr. Seavers offered an overview of how licensing time frames work in agencies clearly subject to Article 7.1. He explained that he and the Board's attorney were working on the best way of crafting the rules, ideally as a hybrid between the requirements of Article 7.1 and the specific requirements of the Board's statutes. He also explained that the rules would need to specify that the 20-day time frame to conduct an expedited review should apply only after the Board receives a completed application. Although the statute stated that the 20-day time frame applies once the Board receives an application, the omission of the word "completed" was unintentional by the research analyst. The Board's attorney advised that the term "application" could be defined in rule to mean "completed application."

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. Easaw made a motion to adjourn the meeting, and Mr. Baker seconded. The motion passed, 4–0. Ms. Pipersburgh adjourned the meeting at 10:01 a.m.

SUBJECT: FY 2008 Budget

At an August 24, 2007 open meeting, the Board will consider the enclosed proposal for the Board's fiscal year ("FY") 2008 budget. This memo summarizes the changes between the FY 2007 and 2008 budgets and highlights notable areas of spending.

Revenues

The proposed budget assumes that the Board will receive $302,589 in fee-based revenues. This projection is based on FY 2007 revenues, which were lower than anticipated. (The Board's FY 2007 budget assumed that DPS would receive 120,000 fingerprint-clearance-card applications. However, DPS received just over 100,000.)

In addition to estimated revenues of $302,589, the Board will carry forward a fund balance of $470,231.64 from FY 2007.

Expenditures

In FY 2007, the Board spent $333,863.88. Under the proposed budget, in FY 2008, the Board would spend $566,741.13.

Much of the increased spending is due the addition of two new staff positions and related expenses. The Board approved the increased spending at its April 20, 2007, meeting. For the purpose of developing a conservative budget, the proposed budget assumes that Board employees will take advantage of the highest level of benefits available, even though actual employee-related expenditures will likely be lower.

In addition to the increased expenses due to new staff positions, the FY 2008 budget reflects $15,000 in information-technology expenses. These expenses, which include database improvements, were approved for the FY 2007 budget. However, due to the imposition of time frames on the Board and a court case that affected the Board's business process, the database upgrades were delayed until the Board could adopt a business process that reflected the impact of the time frames and court case.

Finally, the increase includes $6,500 to purchase a new photocopier/scanner. The Board's current copier is breaking down more frequently. In addition, the scanning feature of the new copier would significantly save the administrative assistants time spent preparing scanned files for hearings.

Revenues versus expenditures

Under the proposed budget, spending would outstrip revenues by $264,152.13. The Board's fund balance from FY 2007 would cover the deficit. The Board would end the fiscal year with a fund balance of $206,079.51.

As discussed in its April 20, 2007, meeting, this deficit would eventually require the Board to change its fee, perhaps by the end of FY 2008. The Board may need to increase its portion of the fee by $2.00, if revenues remain at the same level as FY 2007.
